Duffy Mali Whiskey Co.: Jan. 28, 1901.

On this, my listh birthday, it gives me great pleasure to tell you how grateful I am for your valuable whiskey. It is my only medicine. My besith is diff good, and I am as strong and vigcrotts as a frun could expect to be at eighty years of age, notwithstanding I am 119 years old to-day. For several years I have taken no medicine but Iunty's Pure Mali Whiskey in an egging three of four times a day. It stimulates my blood and geeps me well and strong—is both food and Gink. My hearing is good, I can walk around, drate and underes myself, and I thank food for what Duffy's Pure Mali Whiskey has done for me. It is truly a blessing for old people, i cannot say too much for it. I know I would not be alive to-day if it were not for your whisper, It has just pulled me through a stege of trio. Very gratefully yours. ABRAHAM E. ELMER, 2 Tracy st., Utica, N. Y.

Lottie Brown Married While Father and Mother Sought Her.

Father and Mother Sought Her.

Lottie Brown, 15 years old, finding parental objection to her sweetheart too strong, left her home, No. 231 Oberbeck avenue, Thursday afternoon, and carly yesterday morning was married to Edward Finn, 21 years old, of No. 231 Belleview avenue, by Justice Walker.

Becoming alarmed at her disappearance, her father, John E. Brown, notified the police. They located her yesterday at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Wasson, No. 503 Gano avenue, where she and her husband are at home.

The young bride's father is employed at the Chain of Rocks Waterworks. Finn's father is foreman of the Knapp-Stout Lumber Company. The young people met at a party last fall and fell in love, but marriage was strongly opposed by the girl's parents because she was so young and the young man had no occupation.

Lottle had been working at the home of a Mr. Carson, and while there her lover pressed his suit clandestinely. Her father wants to have the marriage annulled on account of her age, but Mrs. Brown, though greatly worried, prefers to leave the matter as it is.

LOOKS FOR THUNDER SHOWERS Doctor Hyatt Expects a Pleasant

Change in the Weather. Doctor Hyatt still pins his faith to the long-deferred thunder showers which he believes will wash and ecol the atmosphere before to-morrow morning. The areas of high and low barometric conditions still remain stationary, but the weather man hopes to put them in circulation before long.

The accurate thermometer on top of the Federal building yesterday gave the lie to the common, every-day thermometers on the street. The highert figure reached by the mercury yesterday was only 26 degrees, and at 4 o'clock the temperature was fallings. As soon as the sun began to sink in the West the heat became lers porceptible.

The cloudiness has passed over to Illinois, and local showers are predicted there to-day.

The designed speed of the Illiwas 16 knots an hour, and on her trial she developed 17.4. The required speed of the new Missouri is 18 knots, and on her trial trip she is expected to make between 19 and 20 knots. In other words her speed requirements is 12% per cent her speed requirements is 12% per cent greater than that demanded of the Illinois

Hope of Builders.

The builders are confidently expecting to produce in the Missouri a boat with a great-The builders are confidently expecting to produce in the Missouri a boat with a greater surplus of speed than they accomplished in the Illinois. A comparison of the principal features of the two ships shows that this expectation is well founded. While just pride may be felt in the Illinois, it will be noted that the Missouri will not be accepted from the builders unless she develops a much higher speed than 17.4.

The Illinois and the Missouri both are classed by the Navy Department as "seagoing, coast-line battleships." Both have two military masts and both are constructed in the same yards, by the same people. In dimensions the Illinois is 28, the Missouri 28 feet 16m. The extreme breadth of each is 72 feet 2% inches, making the Missouri calculated for speed. The mean draft of relatively less beam, and, therefore, better calculated for speed. The mean draft of each is 2 feet 6 inches. The displacement of the Illinois is 11,85 and of the Missouri 12.20 tons.

Could Run Away From Illinois. Could Run Away From Illinois.

The speed of the Missouri will so far exceed that of the Illinois that, if the two were ordered to a point 760 miles distant and the Missouri were to go under full steam, she would either have to tow the Illinois or arrive at her destination five hours ahead. For instance, if these ships both started from Hong-Kong to Manila "to capture or destroy the Spanish fleet," when the Missouri passed under the guns of Corregidor Arsenal, the Illinois would be nearly 160 miles in the rear.

The increased speed of the battleships is highly valued by the experts of the Navy Department. In the Missouri and her sister ships, the Ohio and new Maine, they expect to have the best types of battleships in the world, securing high speed without loss of etability.

The Missouri now is 37 per cent forward in the matter of construction, which indicates that it will be ready for launching in October. When Miss Marian Cockrell, who has been chosen for this honor, breaks the bottle of Missouri, "the party of Missourians, who are lucky enough to be on deck and feel it tremble as the boat glides down the ways, will realize that they are on a battleship, all in all unequaled in the world.

fine shin probably will develop nearly 25 knots. In the St. Louis contractors probably will make special effort to surpass the speed requirements, as they are somewhat new in this field of government work, and naturally desire to establish a record.

The St. Louis is being built by Neafle & Levy, Philadelphia. Thus far nothing has been done beyond making the plans. It will be at least two years before the St. Louis can be launched. She will be of 8,000 tons displacement and one of the finest cruisers affoat, combining great epoed and fighting qualities of the highest order.

Neafle & Levy have the contracts also for the new cruiser benver, and for three torpedo-boat destroyers, the Rainbridge, Barry and Chauncey.

NO OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

Constitutional Convention Provides Against Emergencies.

Richmond, Va., June 14.—Before the Con-stitutional Convention could get lisely or-ganized yesterday the leaders got into a wrangle as to whether the members should take the oath of allegiance to the United tates, as provided for in the Une States, as provided for in the Underwood Constitution.

United States Senator John W. Daniel. Carter Glass of Lynchburg, Judge Berryman Green of Danville, R. Walton Moore of Fairfax and other leaders took part in the debate

The bone of contention was whether or not the members would by subscribing to the oath compromise themselves when the question of disfranchising the nearto in Virginia came up. One side held that it would while another claimed that the refusal of the members to subscribe to the oath would not stand the test of the United States Supreme Court. Carter Glass held that if the oath was subscribed to the convention might as well adjourn, so far as the suffrage was concerned. He intimated that if the motion was carried he would quit the game and go home. So did Judge Berryman Green.

The motion was lost—57 to 25—and the con-

New York, June H.-Martin Anderson, a diver, was suffocated this morning while in water sixty feet deep at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street. After being down twenty minutes he was holsted up in an unconscious condition, and died a few minutes after he was hauled out. Robert Cerle, the pump operator, and George Rodgers, the contractor, were placed under arrest.

gers, the coatractor, were placed under arrest.

Anderson was accustomed to go down in a diving suit, into the helmet of which air was forced. He always kept in communication with the men above by signals, which told them whether he had enough air and when he was ready to be brought to the surface.

When Anderson had been down twenty minutes this morning and failed to signal in the usual way Cerle became alarmed. They hauled in the rope and pulled the man aboard. His helmet was properly adjusted and apparently nothing was wrong. But he was found to be unconscius. Cerle and the deck hands worked over him for some time, but to no purpose. An examination of the machinery failed to reveal any defects and it is somewhat of a mystery as to how the air supply was shut off.

MARKED INCREASE IN DOMESTIC TRADE.

Products of the South and Southwest Show Big Gains Over Last Year.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, June 14.—Leading movements in the domestic commerce of the United States are now being made the subject of nonthly reports by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics.

In Western territory, live stock and ceremovements. The live stock receipts at the five principal markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and St. Joseph during 1901 show remarkable gains over last months ending with April, the official re-cepts of cattle, hogs and sheep in the four months just ended showing an increase of 350,417 head, as compared with the corresponding months of 1966.

The rise in the price of corn is per out as being largely responsible for this increased movement of live stock to market, it having become more profitable to sell corn at 25 per cent above last year's price than to keep the stock on such high-priced feed.

The receipts of spring and winter wheat at the eight markets of Minneapolis, Milwaukee. Duluth, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Detroit and Toledo for the harvest year to April 39 were 10,540,722 bushels more than a year ago, a gain of approximately 6 per cent.

for a year ago, a gain of approximately 6 per cent.

In Southern territory, the cotton movement is the most important, 9,28,97 bales having come into sight by May 1, 1991. Of this amount Texas alone contributed 3,508,-69 bales.

The growth of New Orleans as a grain The growth of New Orleans as a grain port is seen in the fact that there were exported from that city during the four months ending May 1, 18,622,368 bushels of grain, as compared with 14,153,127 bushels in the four months of 1900.

A recent event of importance was the shipment of a carioad of Valencia oranges from Southern California to Fortland, Ore., destined for Vladdvostok, Siberia. This is the first fruit shipment of the kind, and fi-
